

This transcript was exported on Dec 07, 2021 - view latest version here.

Dr. Zachary Hodgins:

If you have the need for multiple implants, we can absolutely sedate you and place all those implants the same day. The implant procedure typically takes between three to four visits, and those are all follow-up visits after the initial placement, and then obviously placing the crown or denture that connects the implants. So it takes a couple of visits after the initial surgery.