

This transcript was exported on Dec 07, 2021 - view latest version here.

Dr. Zachary Hodgins:

So some of the health effects that patients can have from not treating their sleep apnea would be increased risk for cardiovascular disease, like heart attack or stroke. It can lead to depression, can lead to problems with diabetes as well, such as decreased insulin sensitivity, mood problems, problems with spouse as well.