

This transcript was exported on Dec 07, 2021 - view latest version here.

Dr. Zachary Hodgins:

What that is, is a positive pressure air mask that forces air down the patient's airway, so that allows them to breathe properly. So when they stop breathing, that machine knows it and it'll help them to breathe properly.